Subject: Small Business Combination Offer Proposal and Contract

Situational Appraisal

Strategic eBusiness - Cook Consulting provides a) an impartial professional review of small business websites and b) small business website blueprints and use cases for websites development.

Frequently, clients have a need for both of these services in rapid succession. Once they see the problems with their existing website and can see clear to fund a new website, they are generally ready for the second service.

This offering bundles those two services under a single umbrella contract. Website evaluation will begin immediately and a website business blueprint will be prepared when the client is ready to proceed with the new website.

Both services must be ordered and paid at the same time. In consideration of payment being made in advance of the first project, a handsome discount is offered over the combined fees of the two individual contracts.

The Objectives, Measures of Success, Project Phases, Timing, and Joint Accountabilities of each individual contract remain essentially the same as identified in those documents.

The timing for the second phase begins when we have been notified in writing that you are ready to proceed with your new website.
